

Building Value
Into Building Products®

2017

Full Line Catalog

Dear Home Products Buyer,

For many years, our corporate mission has been “Building Value Into Building Products.” Our employees have many ways to measure how we are doing as we deliver value to you through innovative products, excellent service and on-time deliveries. But ultimately, we do all of these things to make someone’s home a better place. Whether it’s providing privacy, letting fresh air in, or adding beauty to a front door, our products make home a better place to be.

With that thought in mind, we are launching our new Destination Doorglass. We’ve learned through our research that doorglass trends change over time, but one thing doesn’t change. Home is our final destination: it is the place that we share with those we love, where we can relax, where we feel safe. Destination Doorglass decorative designs provide high visual privacy with beautiful, minimalist aesthetics that will reflect the uniqueness of your home and style. Turn to page 12 for more information on these new designs: Crosswalk, Courtyard, Parkway, and Waterside.

In 2016, we launched our Perspectives Textured Doorglass which features eight globally-inspired, high-privacy textures. In response to your positive feedback about these unique and functional textures, we will be adding a new texture for 2017. Linen is an etched, white glass with a silkscreened woven pattern that will complement either a casual or formal entryway. You can learn more about Perspectives Textured Doorglass and see beautiful photography of the new Linen texture beginning on page 94.

We will also be expanding our doorglass options for Spotlights® Doorglass in 2017. Rain glass has been a long-time popular texture in many of our products. For this reason, it translates easily to the architectural authenticity of the Spotlights offering. Use Rain or any of our other unique Spotlights doorglass, along with our high-performance Modern frame, to enhance the aesthetics and performance of your home. From early 1900’s Victorian architecture to today’s Contemporary home designs, and everything in between, Spotlights provides the authenticity you desire. The Spotlights section of the catalog begins on page 88.

We are excited to offer these new product additions to you in 2017 and continue to make homes better through high-performance and beauty. We truly value your continued partnership with ODL and wish you a successful year ahead.

Shine!
